CAPITAL AND SURILES, $450,000

INTE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt purjing companies. They invite invostigation into their condition and selicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solveney and reliability and homerable dealing, they have but five entirely upon theory and the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below pay, and are every way more reliable and permanent than radicand, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable. In times of parties of the market, and liable. In times of parties of the market, and liable. In times of parties of the real teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on land sufficient to reinsure their custainaling risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Matual Companies, and a certeinty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid. CAPITAL AND SURILES, - $150,000

New York Life Insurance Company, CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000 all well invested for the benefit of Palicy holders, so that the profits of this west sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestlomably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

CAPITAL AND SURBLUS,

THIB above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solveney and reliability and bonorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon proporty in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past teny verys, depredated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panie, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valuations. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calented to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their cariat large the amount, and in plus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage. Folicies issued without below, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a sertainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

Witt Onaglas be Nominated?

It is annoying, undoubtedly, to the denameracy to be field up as they are at this time. While the republicans are gaily ri. const of Corsica, where they will determine ding upon the wave of popular favor which is bearing their nominees onward towards success, the democrats are compelled to look on with nothing to sav or to do, but to lessail their misfortunes, and appraid each other for the condition into which their leaders have brought them. While the reing political meetings, the democrats go plant the streets disconsolate, or canvassing the prospects at Baltimore. This is all the excitement they have to keep their spirits from starnation; and this must continue for three or four weeks, even if a nomination is made by the remnant of the Charleston convention which meets on the 18th.

As a foretaste of what is to come at Baltimore we see congressmen and newspapers pitching into the dispute about the platform and the nominees. Instead of bringing the belligerent: in the discussion together, they are separating every day more widely. It has served to make the dispute a Charleston. Among them Mr. Butler, of wrote a latter which is Douglas, who were forced by the rules to that he is entitled to the nomination beside speculations. Garibaldi is impulsive

We do not believe that Douglascan obtain a appointaion by a two-thirds

The Them Tax in!-The democratic democrats mean to concentrate their efforts will be a strong Seward disaffection." But to this the Evening Journal replies with smual spirit and truth:

some of the whole convention.

If Mr. Seward was not in favor at Chicago his principles were. And, even by his most devoted personal and political friends, his principles are more revered than the man. Let the democracy, if they please, concentrate all their power on New York. Mr. Soward's friends would be happy to have their patriotism brought to such a test. The greater the pressure, the greater their power; and if it shall be but understood that their metal is to be tried in the way indiented, the republicans of the Union will see such a battle as has never been fought l upon this continent.

LINCOLN DOES NOT DESERT HIS PRINCEvises. Mames Buchanan, the venerable sage of Wheatland, and the occupant of the presidential chair, bas, since his election to the chief magistracy, made speeches warning students against drinking spirituous landors, and gone home to write an endorsement of some "prime old rye." It will be seen by the following paragraph from the Bultimore Patriot that "old Abe" is too honest to desert his principles for the suke of coartesy:

This morning we met with one of the delegates to the late Chicago convention, who intormed us that the committee who appointed to convey to Mr. Lincoln the official notice of his nomination as their candidate for the presidency, repaired to Springfield, Illinois, in the fulfillment of this duty. the stated that Mr. Lincoln resides in a confortable mansion in the suburbs of the city, and as the committee proceeded to his residence, they attracted much attention. illis neighbors knowing that he was a strictly temperance man, at once despatched their servants with waiters covered with bottles of wine, brandy, whisky, etc., to enable him to offer what they they conceived was proper to these distinguished guests. Mr. Lincoln met these servants who had charge of these refreshments, and requested them to say to his friends and neighbors that he duly appreciated their kindness, but he could not consent to violate a long established rule of conduct, and that he should treat his guests with plentiful draughts of delicious and pure ice water.

To BE FULFILLED .- Mr. Holbrook, who made a Lincoln speech at Peru on Thursday evening last, corrected the editors who are persistently calling our candidate Abram, by quoting scripture thus:

"Neither shall thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name shall be Abraham; for a father of many nations have I made thee."-Genesis 17. 5.

From the New York Evening Post

The subject of greatest interest now in curopean politics is the warlike expedition of Garibaldi against Sicily or Calabria. It is known that he quitted Genoa at midight on the 5th inst., with more than two housand companions in arms, twenty thousand muskets, and a large sum of money in gold. The volunteers consist of the same kind of men as the magic name of Garibaldi has always called about him when he projected some grand stroke for the liberation of his countrymen. They were the youth of Italy—students, professional men and peasants—many of his old chasseurs of the Alps, and soldiers who have descried from the Sardinian army—the greater part, perhaps, inexperienced in the art of war, but the leaders among them veteran cam-

The embarkation was made in the midst of an unparalleled enthusiasm of the people, the authorities making but a feeble or formal resistance to it, and the sympathy of the regular troops in garrison being so strong that it was necessary to confine them to their barracks. Dressed in the searlet tunie with which, in 1849, Garibaldi was used to fire Neapolitan imaginations and strike terror into the hearts of the Bourbon officials, the hopeful little army of liberation ascended the sides of the three steamers prepared to convey them to victory or death. Two other steamers, with about fifteen hundred recruits, speedily tollowed them, and the whole, its said, will rendezvous at Capraja, on the northeast firmity.

upon their future course of action. This seemingly desperate scheme of the great agitator is ascribed to various moives; by some to a recent domestic calainity, which is said to have almost broken his heart and made him reckless of any but a dishonorable death. Others allege that the noble and unsuspecting leader has been lured into a trap by wily plotters in Sardinia, publicans are forming their clubs and hold-ing publicants are forming their clubs and hold-ing publicant are forming their clubs and hold-ing publicants are forming their clubs are forming to the clubs are formed to the clubs duct of his own consciousness of truth and candor, may possibly have rendered him the victim of treacherons advisers. Again: t is reported by the correspondents of the English prints that Garibaldi's course is he sudden result of a lit of disappointment. He had applied to the commissioners of the Million Rifle Fund for support in a contemplated Sicilian raid, and was discourteously repulsed. Disgusted with the ingratitude of the committee and the obstables thrown in his way in every direction, he, without further reflection, threw up his appointment on fire about 3 o'clock last Saturday morn the service of Sardinia, and hurried off ming, and was in ashes by 4 o'clock.

the platform. As the democratic party is the French editors would have us believe. Garibaldi most likely knows more of the that a nomination can be made without a Sicily than his critics or the general public state and prospects of the insurrection in compromise, and as Douglas and his party He has his secret agents everywhere, and do not not but demand the nomination of they keep advised of their condition; but the other sources of information are either closed, or the intelligence imparted is only such as the Neapolitan government may doesn it advisable to reveal. We are told that the insurgents are crushed; but we are told at the same time that the siege of Palmero was raised with the utmost difficulty; that all business is arrested in that I city; that Carini is held by two thousand people; that Cimini, Peterula, and many points say that in the coming canvass the other towns and villages are in arms; that the turbulence is spreading everywhere, on the state of New York, "where there | and that, in the meantime, the king of Naples is applying in vain for aid to the friendy northern courts. Austria, his principal reliance, is not in a condition to render him efficient assistance; the Panal power has many more troubles of its own than it can well manage; and we do not see the quarter in which the king can find relief. struggle must be between the people and the throne, and with such formidable allies both in numbers and enthusiasm as Caribaldi will bring, the cause of the people is by no means hopeless.

They then took a ball of candle wick and saturated it with fluid, laying a train from near the center of the store to the back room, and setting fire to it. In their anxiety to hide the light from the front of the building, they closed the door leading to the back room so tight on the train that the fire went out on reaching the door.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS. An Astronomer's View of the Universe.

In waiting ourselves, in imagination, to its ancient fame as the reflige of unhappy our own satelite, the Moon—the nearest of our celestial bodies we have passed over a distance equal to thirty times the diameter session of the supreme court at Salem in of our globe. In advancing to the sun we the former state, no less than seventeen travel over a distance equal to thirty times couples have been divorced from the bonds that of the moon; and before we reach Uranus, the remotest of the planets, we have traversed a space equal to twenty times the earth's distance from the sun. Wm. L. Dayton has announced, that next Thus placed at the limits of a system en closed in a circle of eighteen hundred millions of miles in radius, our appreciation of distance would appear to be exhausted, and we seem to be as on the margin of an unfathomable abyss.

The telescope, however, and the mural circle, enable us to span the void, and the gentus of man, proud of the achievement—and justly, if humbly proud—has crossare about the same thing. The French ed the gulf twelve thousand times the radius of his own system, that he may study the nearest world in the firmament of heaven. Beyond this frontier lies the whole universe of stars, their binary systems, their clusters, sources, is now endeavoring to show that and their nebulous combinations. The observed parallax of one-fourth of a second in a Lyre, carries us four times as far into the bosom of space; though beyond this we have no positive measure of distance, it would be as unphilosophical to assign limits to creation as to give it an infinite range. In this rapid flight into space, we have traversed it but in one dimension, and the line which we have traced, is but a unit in the scale of celestial distance. Creation in its wide panorama is still above us, beneath us and all around us. The over-arching heavens still enclose us, and innumerable worlds sparkle in its canopy.

If from this bourne, from which the as-ronomical traveler alone: returns, we look upon our course, our own planetary system ceases to be perceived. Its sun is dimitself but an invisible point in the nebulous light that intervenes. Where, then, is our terrestial ball, its oceans, its continents, its mountains, its empires, its dynasties, its thrones? Where is our fatherland, its factions, its christian disunions, its slave crimes, and its unholy wars? Where is our home, its peace, its endearments, its hopes, and its fears? They have all disappeared in the far-off perspective, the long vista of space, whose apex, were it a sun, the hugest space would fail to decry. No living thing here meets the eye, and no sentiment associated with life presses on the affections. The tiny organism of earth and ocean, every thing that moves and breathes, that lives and dies, all are engulphed in the great conception of the universe. The straining mind cannot unite the immeasurable extremes. The infinite in space, the eternal in duration, the omnipotent in power, the perfect in wisdom, alone fill the expanded soul and portray in their awful combination, the Creator of the Universe .-North British Review.

To prevent the concentration or location is the object of the treatment. This can be better done by the mother or nurse before the poison which causes the disease is received into the system. The best, and we might say the only way to accomplish this, is by keeping the skin and the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs in a healthy condition. Good, nutritious diet, regular and sufficient exercises in the open air, preventing of sudden colds by keeping the feet and extremities warm and dry, and by preventing a current of colder air to fall on the body than that in which it is immersed, and by semi-daily washings with cold water and soap, followed immediately with smart friction with coarse flannel, especially around the chest and throat, until perfect! dry, and a warm glow of the skin is induced the Times demails, on the part of indignant and the wearing of dry, warm, clean than nels next the whole surface of the skin, except the face-these are the best means to revent the disease, and with a little proper, mild medicine, the best to cure it after it is received.

True there are four companies of U. He has sworn in his wrath that since he cannot enarge the dominions of the serpent clutching eagle by removing the boundaries of Mexi co eastward, he will not allow Americans to enjoy any privileges in the valley of the Rio Grande. It is very easy for his guerilla bands to carry his threat into execution. Such is the nature of the country that no military force is sufficient to prevent these guerilla incursions across the river, and Americans will not be safe on their ranches until other steps are taken for their security. A fact connected with these valley ranchos not generally known in the interior states, is that a field untilled for two seasons becomes a chaparal thicket, too dense to be penetrated in any way save by a grubber. It cannot be plowed, and the original labor of preparing it for the plow has to be done over, so that the labor of years is all lost by

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN KENOSHA-THE VILLAIN WHO BURNED THE CITY DISCOV-ERED!-We were in Kenosha vesterday, and found the city in a state of intense excitement in consequence of the discovery and arrest of the incendiary who fired the city two different times not long since, and by vhose efforts many thousand dollars worth of property was destroyed in the business centre of the city. Some of the finest blocks in the city of Kenosha were burned, and many citizens and business men lost their all, while in one or two instances lives of the occupants of the buildings were endangered,

On Sunday night the villain was arrested. His name is George Shepard, and he has been for some time past the landlord of the Tremont House in that city. The method employed for his detection was, as we are mformed, as follows :

For a long time past suspicion has rested upon Shepard, and he has been closely watched. Doring the past six weeks a detective of the Chicago Police, whose name we did not learn. has been in the city of Kenosha under the disguise of an Irish laborer, and, after much skilfull maneavering, succeeded in gaining the confidence of Shepard, with whom, after a short lapse of time, a proposition to again fire the city met with favor. It was agreed that the attempt should be made on Sunday night, and the officers, knowing the scheme, were consegently on the watch. We are also informed that Shepard gave the detective information as to the manner in which he had fired the city on previous occasions, and what were his reasons for so doing. Yesterday morning, about 3 o'clock, Shepard, in company with the detective, proceeded to an old, dilapidated and unoccupied building in the rear of the American House, and made preparations for firing it by saturating the wall with turpentine, and neaping straw upon the floor. All this time the mayor of the city, in company with the officers, were in the adjoining room watching their proceedings. Shepard lighted a match, which went out. He then lighted another, with which he set the straw on fire, when he was seized by the officers and, after a sharp resistance, overpowered and taken to jail, where he is now confined under guard. The officers then proceeded to his house, which they searched, but without finding anything to add to he evidence they had already accumulated. We have seldom seen people more excited than were the citizens of Kenosha yesterday. It was feared by several that he would be taken from the jail and lynched, Even the ladies of the city strongly adocated this method of ridding the world of a villain who had destroyed so great a por tion of their city. It was hoped, however that moderation would prevail, and the law be permitted to take its course. Another proposition we beard discussed was to take him from the jail and "duck" him in the take until he was compelled to reveal the names of his accomplices, but wiser counsel prevailed, and he did not meet with the roposed baptism. Shepard at one time lived in Racine, where he was noted as a sort of hard case. and keeper of a house no better than himself. Some time since our readers will remember we gave an account of a fire there, which fire it is thought he kindled. We understand the hearing on the motion for a receiver of the land grant road of the La Crosse and Milwaukee railroad company was heard on the 17th inst., before the federal court in Milwaukec. The case was argued for the trustees, by Clarkson N. Por ter, Esq., of this city, and for the defendant, Chamberlain, the lessee in possession by Messes. Emmons and Lynde, who argued on various grounds, the invalidity of the mortgage, and the priority of Chamberlain's claims. The court, however, granted the motion, appointed the trustees (Messrs Bronson, Soutter and Knapp,) receivers, i they would act, and if not, the Hon. Ilans Crocker of Milwaukee; the receiver to give $30,000 security for the faithful performance of his duties.—N. X. Tribune.

A Cauld Desiring to Dec.-Norville Whittaker, a little boy of Cincinnati, in attempting to jump upon a locomotive at the Covington & Lexington railroad depot, recently, fell and was so badly crushed by the wheels that his right leg had to be amputated at the thigh. Though the wound began to heal, yet it soon became evident to his physicians and friends that he must die .-The child sank gradually, till one day "when he startled those around his suffering couch with a calmly expressed desire to die and be at rest. From that time nothing could induce him to taste food. His declined now became frightfully rapid, and the dying boy, foreseeing it with even clearer vision than the practiced eye of his physician, assembled his playmates around his couch, and with streaming eyes and bursting heart bade them an affectionate adieu. His eye: shone with unwonted brightness; his face grew radient with unutterable joy and inexplicable hope, and while his weeping parents oung with clasped hands and sorrowing hearts over his wasted form, a light of benign beauty irradiated his pallid features, he sand more heavily into the pillows, and the spirit

UNAMIABLE WOMEN IN RAILROAD CARS. -The Hartford Courant is exceedingly indiguant at some of the women passengers on the railroad lines. He says on their Connectiont roads-

Almost every woman claims two seatsone for her precious self, and one, to use a Virginia expression " to tote her plunder." It makes no matter how many men are standing up, the fair creatures must have room. Sometimes some beflounced woman, we never use the word lady in such a connection,) spreads herself and her traps over four seats. She pays for but one. The conductors, amiable men as they are, never interfere to give every traveler his equal rights. They probably are too much hen-pecked at home to make the women do justice abroad. There is nothing that so strongly exhibits the utterly unamiable character of a woman as this cold, haughly contempt of the rights and comforts of others. A man who is in love with a girl should, before he declares himself, witness how she conducts herself in a crowded car. It is a good criterion of her selfishness. She will never make a good wife or mother.

It is recommended to the masculines to form a "Man's Rights Society," and com- dine, Hair Restoratives and Tonics, sold by pel conductors to give them seats when there are any to spare.

Currous Law Sutt .- A law suit involving a large amount and presenting a curious question, is pending in the Casey county (Kentucky) circuit court. It seems that Owen Sutherland, living on Green Run, in Casey county, some four or five miles above Liberty, who is now a man about eighty years old-by his own energy, industry, and conomy, assisted by his industrious and frugal housewife, acquired a very large estate, a part of which is some fifty-five or fifty-seven slaves. A month or two ago, it became noised about in the county, that he was about to set his slaves free, by deed of manumission. His grand-children, some of them, and his son-in-law, McWhorter, becoming satisfied that such was his purpose, and that he would soon execute it, instituted legal proceedings, charging that he was in his dotage, and rather imbecile, and especially, that his negroes had an undue influence over him; and that on this account, he was incompetent to control his property. and prayed an inquiry into the matter, with a view of having a committee appointed for him, to take care of his property. He exeented a deed freeing all his slaves, and was preparing to remove them from the state, when the plaintiffs had an attachment is sued against them, and they were detained. The cause came up for trial week before last, at the Casey circuit court, but was continued until next November term.

Few of us know what we would do in pinch, but we rather think if we were called upon just at the present time to define the national democracy, we should do it by adopting Parson Higginson's definition of mince pie-"very white and indigestible upon the top, very black and indigestible at the bottom, and untold horrors between. - it is annoying, undoubtedly, to the demoreney to be tied up as they are at this tiere. While the republicans are gally riding apon the wave of popular favor which is bearing their nominees onward towards success, the democrats are compelled to look on with nothing to say or to do, but to bewail their misfortunes, and upbraid each other for the condition into which their leaders have brought them. While the republicans are forming their clubs and holding political meetings, the democrats go about the streets disconsolate, or canvassing the prospectant Baltimore. This is all the expitement they have to keep their spirits from succession; and this must continue for the coor four weeks, even if a nomination is not le by the remnant of the Charleston conv. ation which meets on the 18th. As a foretaste of what is to come at Baltimore we see congressmen and newspapers pitching into the dispute about the platform and the nominees. Instead of bringing the belligerents in the discussion together, they are separating every day more widely. It has served to make the dispute a personal master with Mr. Douglas. Some new deny that he had even a majority at Charleston. His position is not one of conciliation, but of definice both in regard to the nomince and the platform. As the democratic party is now situated, it does not appear probable that a nomination can be made without a compromise, and as Donglas and his party their favorite upon a platform of their own, delate. We do not believe that Douglas van obtain a nomination by a two-thirds vote of the whole convention.

Seward's friends would be happy to have their patriotism brought to such a test. The greater the pressure, the greater their power; and if it shall be but understood inat their metal is to be tried in the way in-dicated, the republicans of the Union wil see such a battle as has never been fought apon this continent.

This morning we met with one of the delegates to the late Chicago convention, who informed us that the committee who appoint d to convey to Mr. Lincoln the offical notice of his nomination as their candidate for the presidency, repaired to Spring field. Illinois, in the fulfillment of this daty. He stated that Mr. Lincoln resides in a constortable mansion in the saburbs of the cay, and as the committee proceeded to his residence, they attracted much attention. His neighbors knowing that he was a strictly temperance man, at once despatched their servants with waiters covered with bottles of wine, brandy, whisky, etc., to co table him to offer what they they conceived wes proper to these distinguished guests. Lincoln met these servants who had charge of these refreshments, and requestthe duly appreciated their kindness, but he could not consent to violate a long established rule of conduct, and that he should treat his guests with plentiful draughts of delicious and pure ice water.

From the New York Evening Post The Hero of Italy.

The subject of greatest interest now in European politics is the warlike expedition of Garibaldi against Sicily or Calabria. It is known that he quitted Genoa at mid-night on the 5th inst, with more than two housand companious in arms, twenty thousand muskets, and a large sum of money in gold. The volunteers consist of the kind of men as the magic name of Garibaldi has always called about him when he projected some grand stroke for the liberation of his countrymen. They were the youth of Italy-students, professional men and peasants-many of his old chasseurs of the Alps, and soldiers who have descried from the Sardinian army—the greater part, perhaps, inexperienced in the art of war, but the leaders among them veteran campaigners.

The embarkation was made in the midst are about the same thing. The Freuch ple, the authorities making but a feeble or formal resistance to it, and the sympathy of the regular troops in garrison being so them to their barracks. Two other steamers, with about fifteen hundred recruits, speedily followed them, and the whole, its said, will

This seemingly desperate scheme of the great agitator is ascribed to various motives; by some to a recent domestic calainity, which is said to have almost broken his heart and made him reckless of any but a dishonorable death. Others allege that the noble and unsuspecting leader has been lured into a trap by wily plotters in Sardinia, to whom his presence is no longer desirable. His generous confidence in men, the product of his own consciousness of truth candor, may possibly have rendered him the victim of treacherous advisers. Again: it is reported by the correspondents of the English prints that Garibaldi's course is the sudden result of a fit of disappointment He had applied to the commissioners of the Million Ritle Fund for support in a contemplated Sicilian raid, and was discourteously repulsed. Disgusted with the ingratitude of the committee and the obstables thrown in his way in every direction, he, without further reflection, threw up his appointment to Sicily. It is further said that under the first impression of the disappointment occasioned by the flat refusal of the commission to grant him the funds required, Garibaldi remained for some hours in a state of complete prostration, then, rousing himself, he wrote a letter, which is now circulated in sick of life, since he is prevented from followed, and a good time generally was serving his country."

An Astronomer's View of the Universe.

In walking ourselves, in imagination, to our own satelite, the Moon-the nearest of our celestial bodies—we have passed over a travel over a distance equal to thirty times that of the moon; and before we reach Uranus, the remotest of the planets, we have traversed a space equal to twenty times the earth's distance from the sun. Thus placed at the limits of a system on closed in a circle of eighteen hundred millions of miles in radius, our appreciation of distance would appear to be exhausted, and we seem to be as on the margin of an un-The telescope, however, and the mural circle, enable us to span the void, and the genius of man, proud of the achievement —and justly, if humbly proud—has cross-ed the gulf twelve thousand times the radius of his own system, that he may study the nearest world in the firmament of heaven. Beyond this frontier lies the whole universe of stars, their binary systems, their clusters, the bosom of space; though beyond this we have no positive measure of distance, it would be as unphilosophical to assign limits to creation as to give it an infinite range. In this rapid flight into space, we have traversed it but in one dimension, and the line which we have traced, is but a unit in the scale of celestial distance. Creation in its wide panorama is still above us, beneath us and all around us. The over-arching heavens still enclose us, and innumerable worlds sparkle in its canopy. If from this bourne, from which the as tronomical traveler alone returns, we look upon our course, our own planetary system ceases to be perceived. Its sun is dimitself but an invisible point in the nebulous light that intervenes. Where, then, is our terrestial ball, its oceans, its continents, its mountains, its empires, its dynastics, thrones? Where is our futherland, its factions, its christian disunions, its slave crimes, and its nuholy wars? Where is our home, its peace, its endearments, its hopes, and its fears? They have all disappound in the far-off perspective, the long vista of space, whose apex, were it a sun, the hugest space would fail to decry. No living thing here meets the eye, and no sentiment associated with life presses on the affections. The tiny organism of earth and ocean, every thing that moves and breathes, that lives and dies, all are engulphed in the great conception of the universe. The straining mind cannot unite the immeasurable extremes. The infinite in space, the eternal in duration, the omnipotent in power, the perfect in wisdom, alone fill the expanded soul and portray in their awful combination, the Creator of the Universe.-North British Review.

Curiously enough, he received but a few slight bruises by his fall. He remembered nothing of what had occurred, and was bewildered when found lying on the floor, anxious to know how he came there. and ready enough to swear " by all that was black and blue " that he had not been over with a passenger since an early hour in the evening. The change made by him was ta sen from a table, on which the quarter lay. The midnight passenger, on coming over this morning, called attention to the queer conduct of the ferryman, and said he never saw so damb a chap before.

SCARLET FEVER .-- We find in an exchange a method of prevention and of treatwhich reads so sens ment of this disease

Scarlet fever is a disease of the skin and the mucous membranes, and very exhausting to the nervous system, and consequent-ly to the powers of life. When it locates to the powers of life. and concentrates upon the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs, putrescent ulceration soon succeeds, which is generally fatal. To prevent the concentration or lo-cation is the object of the treatment. This can be better done by the mother or nurse before the poison which causes the disease is received into the system. The best, and we inight say the only way to accomplish this, is by keeping the skin and the autous membranes of the throat and lungs in a healthy condition. Good, nutritious diet, regular and sufficient exercises in the open air, preventing of sudden colds by keeping the feet and extremities warm and dry, and by preventing a current of colder air to fall on the body than that in which it is immersed, and by semi-daily washings with cold water and soap, followed immediately with smart friction with coarse flannel, especially around the chest and throat, until perfectly dry, and a warm glow of the skin is induced the Times devials, on the part of indignant and the wearing of dry, warm, clean flancept the face-these are the hest means to prevent the disease, and with a little proper, mild medicine, the best to cure it after it is received.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN KENOSHA-THE VILLAIN WHO BURNED THE CITY DISCOV-ERED!-We were in Kenosha yesterday, and found the city in a state of intense excitement in consequence of the discovery and arrest of the incendiary who fired the city two different times not long since, and by whose efforts many thousand dollars worth of property was destroyed in the business centre of the city. Some of the finest blocks in the city of Kenosha were burned, and many citizens and business men lost their all, while in one or two instances lives of the occupants of the buildings were endangered. On Sunday night the villain was arrested. His name is George Shepard, and he has been for some time past the landlord of the Frement House in that city. The method employed for his detection was, as we are informed, as follows:

For a long time past suspicion has rested apon Shepood, and he has been closely watched. During the past six weeks a de-tective of the Chicago Police, whose name we did not learn, has been in the city of Kenosha under the disguise of an Irish lahorer, and, after much skilfull maneuvering, succeeded in gaining the confidence of Shepard, with whom, after a short lapse of time, a proposition to again fire the city met with favor. It was agreed that the attempt should be made on Sunday night, and the officers, knowing the scheme, were conseqently on the watch. We are also informed that Shepard gave the detective information as to the manner in which he had fired the city on previous occasions, and what were his reasons for so doing.
Yesterday morning, about 3 o'clock, Shepard, in company with the detective, pro-ceeded to an old, dilapidated and unoccupied building in the rear of the American House, and made preparations for firing it by saturating the wall with turpentine, and neaping straw upon the floor. All this time the mayor of the city, in company with the officers, were in the adjoining room watching their proceedings. Shep-ard lighted a match, which went out. He then lighted another, with which he set the straw on fire, when he was seized by the officers and, after a sharp resistance, over-powered and taken to jail, where he is now confined under guard. The officers then proceeded to his house, which they scarehd, but without finding anything to add to the evidence they had already accumulated. We have seldom seen people more exci-

ed then were the citizens of Kenosha yesterday. It was feared by several that he would be taken from the jail and lynched. Even the ladies of the city strongly advocated this method of ridding the world of a villain who had destroyed so great a portion of their city. It was hoped, however that moderation would prevail, and the law be permitted to take its course. Another proposition we heard discussed was to take im from the joil and "duck" him in the lake until he was compelled to reveal the names of his accomplices, but wiser counsel prevailed, and he did not meet with the proposed buptism.

Shepard at one time lived in Racine, where he was noted as a sort of hard case, and keeper of a house no better than himself. Some time since our readers will renember we gave an account of a fire there, which fire it is thought he kindled. Since his residence in Kenosha he has kept the Tremont House, a very popular place of resort for shoulder hitters and their followers. -Milwankee News.

UNAMIABLE WOMEN IN BAILROAD CARS. The Hartford Courant is exceedingly indignant at some of the women passengers on the railroad lines. He says on their Connecticut roads---

CERIOUS LAW SUIT .- A law suit involving a large amount and presenting a curious question, is pending in the Casey cono-(Kentucky) circuit court. It seems that Owen Sutherland, living on Green Run, in Casey county, some four or five miles above is now a man about eighty Liberty, who years old—by his own energy, industry, and economy, assisted by his industrious and frugul housewife, acquired a very large estate, a part of which is some fifty-five or fifty-seven slaves. A month or two ago, it became noised about in the county, that he was about to set his slaves free, by deed of manumission. His grand-children, some of them, and his son-in-law, McWhorter, becoming satisfied that such was his purpose, and that he would soon execute it, instituted legal proceedings, charging that he was in nis dotage, and rather imbecile, and especially, that his negroes had an undue influence over him; and that on this account, he was incompetent to control his property and prayed an inquiry into the matter, with a view of having a committee appointed for him, to take care of his property. He executed a deed freeing all his slaves, and was preparing to remove them from the state, when the plaintiffs had an attachment issued against them, and they were detained. The cause came up for trial week before last, at the Casey circuit court, but was continued nutil next November term.

Few of us know what we would do in a pinch, but we rather think if we were called upon just at the present time to define the national democracy, we should do it by adopting Parson Higginson's definition of mince pie-"very white and indigestible upon the ton, very black and indigestible at the bottom, and untold horrors between." Four brothren having finished their probation and passed the necessary examina tions, were received into full standing with the conference, and solemnly set apart to the work of the ministry, and one young man was received on probation.

The year 1860 being the jubilee of the parent society which was organised in England in 1810, the present conference instituted in Wisconsin a jubilee missionary society, and the subscriptions already amount to $125. Steps were also taken to publish a semi-monthly paper in January 1861. The religious services of the conference were numerously attended, and powerful in their nature, and altogether the annual assembly was very interesting. FFATIONS OF THE MINISTERS.

IMPORTANT DECISION .- We have procured from Judge Miller of the United States court, a copy of the opinion, read in court in the case of Charles Luling against the city of Racine. The action is to recover the contents of coupons annaxed to bonds issued by the city in aid of the Rauine & Mississippi railroad company, in pursuance of an net of the legislature of the state.-The court decides that the bonds are a bona tide debt of the city, notwithstanding the act was not published before the issuing of them. That the question of publication of the net is not a legitimate matter of defence. And that the issuing of the bonds had been approved by the city authorities and the uple since the act was published. - Mil.

HIE undersigned having dissolved the co-partnership existing between himself and W. P. Woodward, has the pleasure of amounting to the citizens of Janes-ville, the people of Rock county, and the world at large, that he has opened a NEW ESTABLISHMENT for the manufacture and sale of

CIGARS, CHEWING AND SMOKING TOBACCO, SNUFF, and tobacco of all kinds, in the frame building on the East End of the Upper Bridge, on MILWAUKEE STREET! recently occupied by P. Lindhorst. In making this an-mouncement he feels that it is unnecessary to include in any psyling and blowing, as is frequently done by oth-ers. He has only to say that BENTON'S CIGARS! puff themselves, and as he is now upon his 'own hook,' he is determined that they shall be better and more acceptable to the public than ever. The people will now know where tobucco of all kinds and in all shapes, of the choicest variety, may be found. HENTON'S IS THE PLACE. Give him a call. GEO. BENTON. Janesville, May 1st, 1860.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—We have procured from Judge Miller of the United States court, a copy of the opinion, read in court in the case of Charles Luling against the city of Racine. The action is to recover the contents of coupons unnexed to bonds issued by the city in aid of the Racine & Mississippi railroad company, in pursuance of an act of the legislature of the state.-The court decides that the bonds are a bona fide debt of the city, notwithstanding the act was not published before the issuing of them. That the question of publication of the act is not a legitimate matter of defence. And that the issuing of the bonds had been approved by the city authorities and the people since the act was published.—Mil. News.

THE NEW YORK DELEGATION AND DOUG-LAS.—The New York Tribune of Tuesday

contains the following: The belief is more and more gaining ground in circles likely to be well informed, that the New York leaders of the democra-cy have cast the last vote they ever intend to east for Douglas; and that they will array themselves at Baltimore in June around the standard of their own beloved Soft Ex Gov-ernor. This they would probably have done at Charleston, deserting Judge Douglas on the fourth or fifth ballot, had it not been for the peculiar circumstances of their admission-to accomplish which the vote of the Douglas northwest was essential. Afterward, the secession of the cotton states gave them no alternative but to remain with the Douglas majority, and vote, as they did vote, to prevent the nomination of Judge Douglas by a two-thirds majority of all pres-
